Swimming in Stones jewellery is created to be enduring. Jewellery is a tangible token that pays tribute to life moments, beliefs, loves and importantly for us, a reminder of our connection to the fragility and importance of our own lives, our humanity and our planet. Our jewellery designs are curated to be beautiful and meaningful, with a story or place to keep you connected.

Bespoke, handcrafted jewellery designed in Sydney, created by artisans with generations of experience. Our mission is to keep talented artisans working through these challenging times, using traditional methods.
